Providing the Best in Leadership Education

The IAFC provides the most comprehensive leadership education and training for all levels of officers and all aspects of fire and emergency services. The IAFC’s expansive education offerings and learning opportunities will enhance your ability to achieve your full potential at any rank or in any specialty area.

Company Officer Leadership Symposium (COLS)

This program is the first of its kind providing leadership courses specifically created for company officers. Only the IAFC COLS is designed to meet the necessary job performance requirements (JPRs) according to NFPA standards.

Chief Officer Leadership Symposium (CHIEF)

The Chief Officer Leadership Symposium provides chief officers with a working knowledge of national and international trends in the fire service. Chief officers will meet standards as identified through NFPA 1021 and work on skills related to job performance requirements (JPRs) and areas of self-development.

Executive Chief Officer Leadership Symposium (ECO)

This is the newest level of IAFC Officer Development Program designed for experienced chief officers planning to make the transition to the role of fire chief. Here, experienced chiefs will get a look at the next level of responsibilities and how to successfully prepare themselves for their role as an executive leader.
Executive Edge™

Experience an executive leadership program that will teach you lessons not taught in any school. This program is designed to provide executive level career development and innovative ideas in a small group format different from any other leadership conference.

FRI brings together more than 12,000 of the most prominent fire and emergency service leaders from across North America and around the globe for the best in education, networking and exhibits. FRI provides outstanding leadership training for company officers, chief officers and fire chiefs. Beyond the classroom, FRI has over 600 exhibitors showcasing apparatus, equipment, gear and all of the latest fire service innovations.

Labor Management Initiative (LMI) Conference

The IAFC and the IAFF partner on the LMI Conference bringing fire chiefs and union presidents together for exceptional networking opportunities and dynamic education. This conference is designed to foster and enhance cooperative and collaborative labor-management relationships.

New Chief Leadership Symposium (NCLS)

The New Chief Leadership Symposium offers new and prospective chiefs the executive level skills and knowledge they need to succeed early on in their tenure. This program covers topics most chiefs have to learn the hard way– on the job. NCLS also consists of regional workshops focused on developing the core competencies of new chiefs.

The New Now

Times are changing and today’s chiefs must be well equipped to face new challenges. This conference will provide participants with new research and data to help make informed, data-driven decisions. Attendees will meet with emerging leaders to discuss the image of the fire service and how to enhance public perceptions. Participants will leave prepared and motivated to face the new now.

Success & Sustainability Workshop

This interactive workshop will bring fire chiefs together with city and county managers to rethink and reshape how things are done to address realities of delivering efficient and affordable services moving forward in the 21st Century.

Wildland Urban Interface (WUI) Conference
WUI brings together leaders from the local, state and federal levels to collaborate against the fastest growing fire threat in the wildland/urban interface. From education and mitigation to suppression strategies and policy, WUI offers extensive training, plus 40,000 square feet of exhibits. WUI addresses the toughest challenges facing the wildland firefighting community.

Fire-Rescue Med (FRM)
Fire-Rescue Med is the conference for fire-based EMS leaders, providing education and training on hiring and retaining EMTs, public and private integration challenges, embracing technology, billing for services, illness prevention programs and more. On the exhibit floor, attendees meet face-to-face with the vendors that provide critical products and services to the EMS community.

International Hazardous Materials Response Teams Conference
The IAFC’s Hazmat Conference provides the latest classroom, hands-on and field trip-based training on what’s new in hazmat. This conference covers all aspects of hazmat, including transportation, safety, WMD, gear, terrorism, mass decontamination, and bioterrorism. The hazmat exhibit floor includes both indoor and outdoor demonstrations of hazardous materials gear, equipment, and more.

Department of Defense: Fire & Emergency Service Training Conference (DoD)
The DoD conference is co-located with FRI giving participants the opportunity to network with Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard, OSD, and DLA peers to discuss fire service issues being faced today.

Volunteer and Combination Officers Section (VCOS) Symposium in the Sun
The VCOS Symposium addresses the unique needs of volunteer and combination departments including transitioning from a volunteer to a combination department, recruitment and retention, leadership, management and staffing.
The IAFC’s learning environments continue to expand as we adapt to the changing needs of our participants. Our education offerings consist of:

- Conferences that are a mix of large general sessions and small classroom breakouts with face-to-face networking and connection building

- Regional Events deliver the core content from larger national events and provide the opportunity for high-level training with local conveniences

- IAFC On Demand provides online access to all FRI sessions on the go. Check it out at www.iafc.org/OnDemand

- Small group events focus on group discussions and idea sharing

- eLearning allows attendees to benefit from education presented online providing the ability to engage with others from the convenience of their house, office, or even on the go

Unique Learning Opportunities

At the IAFC we know education goes beyond the classroom—it’s also extremely important to our businesses in the marketplace. The IAFC has three new programs that allow for relationship building and information sharing between fire service leaders and companies

- conneXions—is a three-day event that provides one-on-one discussions between top leaders from major markets and businesses as they learn from each other

- Focus Groups—give participants an opportunity to be an influential voice in the marketplace by sharing their perceptions and opinions on products and advertising with participating companies

- flex—is a hosted buyers program which allows qualified buyers to participate in FRI at no cost while also attending pre-scheduled appointments with participating vendors.
